Linrong Li

Bachelor of Information, Third Year

linrongl.li@mail.utoronto.ca, 343-368-1695

Summary of Qualifications

- Excellent in data analysis because of user-centred design experiences
- Strong communication skills developed from school clubs and volunteering
- Focus on details due to past IT support experience
- Quick learner from self-studying website design
- Technical skills: Tableau, Python, Microsoft Offices, HTML, JavaScript, SQL

Project Experience

UofT Library Indoor Navigation System   09/2022 - 12/2022

Group project for INF352

- Distributed questionnaires to gather data from target users and calculated statistics variants in the data using Google Sheet
- Conducted interviews with stakeholders and analyzed the responses in the form of affinity diagrams
- Communicated data analysis results in professional-style reports

Coneix - UofT online social platform   01/2022 - 04/2022

Group project for CSC318

- Designed an online social platform that integrates with university students' majors in the format of a mobile app
- Created low-fidelity and high-fidelity prototypes

Work Experience

IT Support Intern   07/2022 - 08/2022

Bank of China International, Wuhan, Hubei

- Maintained the consistency of data in different datasets
- Detail-oriented when fixing technical devices
- Communicated patiently with colleagues with limited technical literacy
- Provided solutions to different problems, especially technical issues

---

Education

Candidate for Bachelor of Information   09/2020 - Present

University of Toronto, Toronto, ON

- Activities: Member of the U of T Application Development Association
- Relevant Courses: Statistics I, Worlds Become Data, Studio II: How to Design, The Design of Interactive Computational System